Four Towns Appeal for Critics to Attend PUC Phone Hearing

Blast of 60 Sticks Panics Colorado City

Four Set Off Explosives Stolen From Clay Mine

PUEBLO, Colo. — Four youths set off 60 sticks of stolen dynamite at Freed Junior High School last night and threw this Colorado industrial center into a temporary panic.

Police said the blast shook houses and broke windows over an area covering at least 25 blocks. There were no injuries.

One woman living four blocks from the school said the explosion sounded like it was in her basement. Other families living as far as seven miles from the school reported hearing the explosion.

POLICE SAID thousands of persons left their homes despite local television and radio announcements urging them to stay off the streets.

Only eyewitnesses to the blast were two other youths, Michael Stuten, 15, and Albert Hayden, who were bicycling two blocks away. Stuten was knocked from his bike by the explosion but not injured.

Police estimated they got at least 300 telephone calls from disturbed and frightened residents inquiring about the explosion.

The four youths responsible for the explosion were taken into custody before midnight on a tip their car had been seen near the school a few minutes before the explosion.

Police identified the youths as Michael Jack Wheritt, 17, Rodrick Robinson, 17, and John Frederick Hockman, 16, all of Pueblo. The other youth is 14 years old.

THE FOUR ADMITTED setting off the cache of dynamite, police said.

Police Capt. Jack Stiffler said Wheritt told him he and his companions attached a cap to one of the dynamite sticks, placed it into the box with about 60 other sticks, lit a four-inch fuse and fled the scene.

Wheritt said he and the other youths were several blocks away drinking a root beer when the explosion occurred.

Stiffler said the four were being held at city jail here and that charges probably would be filed today following a conference with the District Attorney.

Wheritt told police he and three other youths—not the ones with him last night—took the case of dynamite, containing 75 sticks, from a clay mine near Stone City 20 miles to the north last Sunday.

He said they set off 15 sticks in a ditch north of here Wednesday.

Police received numerous calls on the Wednesday explosion but failed to find the source of it. The school miraculously escaped damage although the explosion occurred on the school grounds.

Tickets Still Available Here for Philharmonic

Tickets to the Easter night performance by the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra's "Symphony Under the Stars" at the Polo Grounds are still available, officers of the sponsoring Playhouse Guild announced today. The concert will start at 8:45 p.m.

Selections will include Wagner's Prelude to "Die Meistersinger," "Good Friday Spell" from "Parsifal," Strauss' Suite from "Der Rosenkavalier," and Brahms' Symphony No. 1 in C Minor, Op. 68, in four parts.

Alfred Wallenstein is conductor of the noted 100-piece orchestra, which is providing another "first" in Village music history.

FRIENDS OF Gilbert Arrendondo, 21, Los Angeles, keep him company pending arrival of an ambulance after his car rolled three times in 400 feet after the driver lost control at Araby Point early this morning. He suffered a fractured collarbone and multiple cuts and bruises, and is in good condition at Desert Hospital this afternoon. See picture of car Page 16. (Desert Sun photo)

Session Set in Village Next Monday

Groups Perfecting Evidence Of Poor Service By Utilities

Petitioning subscribers of the telephone service supplied by the California Water and Telephone Company and the Coachella Home Telephone Company, are today completing meetings for the gathering of testimony which will be presented to the Public Utilities Commission Monday morning.

This group has retained on behalf of the Chambers of Commerce of Palm Springs, Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage and Palm Desert, Los Angeles attorney Clayton Thomas and Palm Desert attorney Harry Cannon to present their complaints to the PUC at the hearing in Palm Springs city council chambers at 10 a.m. Monday.

Chamber representatives including Jimmy Cooper of Palm Springs, Chet Madison of Rancho Mirage, Claude Cobb of Cathedral City and Hal Kapp of Palm Desert, collectively asked today for the support of as many area residents as possible in appearing at the Commission hearing in support of their complaints over the past few years.

Representatives met last night with their attorneys at the Shadow Mountain Club in Palm Desert to discuss the issue. The organizations earlier this week decided to drop plans to present written complaints from residents, and urge people to attend in person. The group has been collecting figures and information pertaining to the great growth of the desert area and will attempt to prove "negligence on the part of the telephone companies in projecting the population trend of the communities involved."

Hal Kapp, president of the Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce said last night that "figures show that the companies are behind in their growth and have not kept up with the service demand."

In a communication from Commissioner Rex Hardy, he stated that the meetings will be scheduled for Monday and Tuesday. The Commission will hear testimony, exhibits and statements by the Chambers of Commerce, public officials, "and any member of the public in the area who uses telephone service." In the event that more than one day, Monday, is necessary in order that everyone appearing before the PUC may be heard, the following day, April 3, will be available.

The telephone companies have filed a joint application requesting that the commission determine whether extended service, which would eliminate toll charges, is in the public interest and to authorize new subscriber rates if the service is found to be justified.

Also involved in the hearing is the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company which furnishes toll telephone service in this area. PUC engineers, since last September, have been investigating the service and rate treatment of the three companies, and though these studies will not be completed by the PUC staff by Monday's meeting date, the commission wants to learn the needs of telephone subscribers for extended service and hear complaints of service deficiencies at the earliest possible time. Further hearings on the Commission staff report will be heard at a later date.

Accordingly, the PUC's investigation will determine whether the companies would be directed to make extensions, repairs, improvements or changes to the existing systems.

Rail Fare Hearing

WASHINGTON — The Interstate Commerce Commission will conduct public hearings April 25 on a proposed 5 per cent increase in passenger fares by eastern and western railroads. The rate increase would be effective May 1.

Desert Area Residents to Greet Easter with 4 Sunrise Services

Desert area residents will greet Easter morning at traditional sunrise services between 5:30 and 5:45 a.m., tomorrow, in four communities.

Thousands are scheduled to attend, with the greatest number at Inspiration Point immediately beneath the lighted cross above O'Donnell Golf Club in the Village.

This will be the fortieth time the Easter dawn has been greeted by worshippers here, with the first service conducted in 1917, also under the auspices of the Palm Springs Community Church.

This year, as usual, the trumpeters will herald the dawn, to be followed by the release of the white-winged doves. Music will be provided by the Palm Springs High School Choir, under the direction of Alex Hammond, and the Chancel Choir of the Community Church directed by Elmer Young. Edward Lyman will be soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Lois Lux.

Bill Hay for the twentieth consecutive year will present his reading of "God of the Open Air," and Dr. James Blackstone, Jr., will present the Easter message.

Amplifications will make it possible for the congregation on the golf course to hear the entire service.

Services under the auspices of the Palm Desert Community Church will be held on the grounds of the Shadow Mountain Club. Entrance will be through the double gates just north of the regular entrance to the club building.

Dr. Denton Gerow, former minister of the Calvary Presbyterian Church in Riverside and now secretary of the Southern California Foundation, will be the speaker. Dr. Graham Hunter, pastor of the Cathedral City Community Church, will deliver the invocation, and Dr. P. Martin Baker will preside.

Couple Stranded Over Night on Canyon Ledge

A teenage boy and girl, stranded on a ledge above the second falls in Tahquitz Canyon were rescued early this morning by members of the Palm Springs Mounted Police after an all-night search.

Brought to safety after almost 12 hours, were John M. Quartaro, 17, of West Los Angeles and Diana Crawford, 16, of Bakersfield, who spent the night on the high ledge, trapped by the jagged rocks and loose sand.

Twenty members of the Mounted Police Reserve hiked all night to reach the stranded pair, and although their shouts could be heard by the rescue team, echoes led the rescuers on false trails many times.

The terrain, most dangerous of all hiking areas in the foothills of the San Jacintos and the Santa Rosas, is a maze of sharp rocks, overhanging cliffs, and inaccessible ravines.

Captain Kenny Paul directed the search and Sgt. Warren Cable led the team that made the rescue. Sgt. Dale Thompson coordinated activities from this area. When the pair was found, it was necessary for Coble to be dropped on a rope over an overhanging cliff, and on to the ledge that held the boy and girl.

The unit set up trucks and trailers near the Ingleside Inn, from which point the team worked. The unit left at 9:30 last night, returned to the trailer for coffee and sandwiches about 4 a.m., and then left again to complete the job. The pair was brought to safety at 8:30 this morning.

Members of the Mounted Police who took part in the rescue included Capt. Paul, Sgt. Coble, Swede Davis, Mac MacDonald (these last three men made the trip up the canyon twice), Joe Butler, Fred Ross, Joel Butler, Jimmy Cooper, Clare Ballagh, Charles Thomas, Elmo Purnell, Lynn Davidson, Joe Berta, Tex Driskell, Bill Alred, Perry Sanders, Elly Sandhurst, Ray Abbey, Russ Hills and Bud Hillerman.

The rescue unit, supported by the proceeds of the Western Week Rodeo, has just added medical supplies to its inventory, and plans for more equipment are being discussed.

President Hires Green Rabbitt

WASHINGTON — The White House yesterday announced the appropriately pre-Easter appointment of A. E. Rabbitt as caretaker of President Eisenhower's putting green.

Suspect Quizzed Here in Knife Murder of Girl

Police here are questioning a 22-year-old itinerant cook regarding the knife murder Thursday in Costa Mesa of Oleta Johnson, 18, purportedly the wife of Pvt. Harold Johnson, 19.

The suspect, Jesse Ray Tucker, was sentenced yesterday to five days in jail on a vagrancy charge.

He was arrested after he walked into the police station Thursday, complaining of pains in his side. Officer Jack Fristad took him to the hospital for treatment, discovered medical attention was not needed and that there was blood on his coat.

The suspect said he had hitchhiked from near Bakersfield Wednesday night after he was unable to find work. He said the blood came from a cut lip a month ago.

Sgt. L. D. Pollom, of the Costa Mesa police, said today he will probably interrogate Tucker, since his answers to Fristad left open the possibility of suspicion. Pollom, presently at Ft. MacArthur quizzing the murdered girl's husband, said there are many possible suspects, but that Johnson is the only one who seems probable.

Through the night, Pollom and Sgt. W. K. Scarce, of the Los Angeles police, have interrogated about 50 men who worked at the Nike base where Johnson and his buddy, Pvt. Henry Garcia, 19, were stationed. The 50 enlisted men were transferred two weeks ago from the missile base near Van Nuys where Mrs. Barbara Jepson, 18, was stabbed two months ago in the same manner. Both girls were partially undressed.

Garcia drove Mrs. Johnson home the night of the murder because Johnson had guard duty at the Santa Ana base. Pollom said Garcia took a lie detector test last night, and results were in his favor.

A butcher knife found by boys playing near the death house yesterday was considered to be the death weapon, and with a spotty description given by a neighbor who heard screams and saw a man run away, are the only clues Pollom has to work on.

The description given tallies with the suspect here, and his story that he ran away with a girl, fathered a child to whom he sends support payments and he can, have led officers to believe he could be the murderer.

Pollom said most of the 50 soldiers have checked out as innocent.

Two Visiting Teenagers Injured in Auto Roll-Over at Araby Point

Two Los Angeles youths are in good condition today after treatment of broken bones received when their car rolled three times in 400 feet at Araby Point early this morning and came to rest on its top.

The Easter vacationers, Merlin E. Rudd, 19, and Gilbert Arrendondo, 21, were the first of the youthful horde which swooped onto the Village last weekend to suffer major injuries in the many nocturnal escapades.

Rudd, driver of the car owned by Arrendondo, was released after treatment for a broken toe and many cuts and bruises. The other is still in Desert Hospital with a fractured collarbone and numerous cuts and bruises.

Rudd's toe was broken when his shoe came off during the accident. He apparently was returning from Tramview to Palm Springs about 2 a.m. and while turning a corner struck soft sand. Rudd overcorrected, his wheels cranked, and the car rolled.

Teenagers elsewhere through the evening kept regular and reserve officers busy, sometimes disregarding their orders till extra forces were called. Loud parties were reported regularly through the evening.

Varied Weather is Predicted for Nation Easter

By UNITED PRESS

Brisk, sunny weather will greet Easter sunrise worshippers along most of the Atlantic Coast and in part of the Rockies, but scattered rain and snow is expected to mar the holiday elsewhere.

Weather forecasters issued a gloom prediction of scattered showers for states in the lower Midwest and some snow for Easter parades farther north.

Rain along the Pacific Coast from Northern California to Washington was expected to dampen holiday celebrations in the Northwest while overcast skies hid the sun over southern California.

Owner was Swabbies Inc., a private club, of La Mesa Airport, San Diego.

El Mirador Hearing Set for April 17; Braemar Retained to Do Planning

National Hotel Enterprises, corporate owners and operators of El Mirador hotel, received favorable action on the part of city council Wednesday night on proposed plans to spend approximately $3,500,000 in the erection of an apartment and business structure opposite the hotel and extending from Indian Avenue to Palm Canyon Drive.

The proposal was placed before city council with recommendation of the city planning commission that code variance necessary for the construction be granted. Council set April 17 at 8:45 p. m. as the hearing date for public discussion.

It was pointed out that although the combination business and apartment structure would be three stories the height would not exceed that of a building presently occupied by a business establishment in Palm Springs.

IT WAS ALSO learned that Braemar Associates had been retained by National Hotel Enterprises to do all the preliminary planning and development. Architect John Lindsey, designer of Desert Braemar now under construction near Tamarisk Country Club, a similar project in Redlands and a 13-story building on the Strip in Hollywood, has been retained to do the planning.

Utilization of space, appointments and other features in the Desert Braemar, inspected by officers of National Hotel Enterprises moved these officials to employ the services of Braemar Associates to do all the planning for this new project.

One salient feature of the proposed structure, at least in Palm Springs, are the basements under each of the 16 business units which will front on Palm Canyon Drive. Deliveries to the stores will be made through subterranean ramps with an elevator at one end of the underground passage. Front door deliveries, common now along Palm Canyon Drive will thus be avoided.

THE TENTATIVE plans also include an underground parking system for automobiles belonging to apartment house dwellers.

How this new structure, its apartments and stores will be operated is as yet undecided. E. Roy Fitzgerald, president of National Hotel Enterprises, said, "The question of operation is now under study with final details to be announced sometime next fall," said Fitzgerald.

"We are extremely pleased with the great interest manifested in the commercial establishments which the plans include," declared Fitzgerald. "Numerous inquiries have been made of Frank Bogert, manager of El Mirador, regarding the availability of these commercial establishments."

It is known too that the apartments will incorporate the latest forms of conveniences including air refrigeration and television cable connections.

Plate Problem

GROTON, Conn. —Motorist Lewis A. Ervoes was fined $9 because he was too cautious. He said he didn't want to "take chances" in the three states where he frequently traveled so his car had a registration plate from each one.

ALFRED WALLENSTEIN, who has a remarkable record in the music world, has been director of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra since 1943. This musical aggregation of 100 members will present a concert here—the first in the history of Palm Springs—at 8:45 p.m., Sunday, at the Polo Grounds. The public is invited to attend, with general admission tickets of $1 and $2 still available.

LIGHT INDUSTRIAL & COMMERCIAL SITE

IN THE HEART OF INDIO HUB OF COACHELLA VALLEY

INDIO — population of 8000 — area population, 30,000 Experts anticipate a population of over 100,000 in the Valley within the next few years.

This means that Indio will become the hub of business activity and light industry in keeping with the desert valley and its needs, and in commercial shopping centers to care for its rapidly increasing population and buying power. 100,000 Acres are now under the All American Canal, with 40,000 Acres already in production. See 1955 crop reports available showing a total of $26,000,000 for the acreage now under production.

Industries are seeking smaller cities where business can be carried on away from the congestion of large cities, yet where all necessary facilities are available, and where convenient housing exists or can be built for employees.

SUCH A CITY IS INDIO

DESTINED TO RIVAL IN IMPORTANCE THE AGRICULTURAL AND INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT OF IMPERIAL VALLEY AND SIMILAR AREAS IN THIS STATE. THE MOVE IS ON TO COACHELLA VALLEY OF WHICH INDIO IS THE HUB.

NOW PICTURE AN INDUSTRIAL SITE SITUATED IN THE CITY OF INDIO

128 Acres with over 4000' fronting on Southern Pacific Railroad track.
Spur tracks available.

WATER: In addition to city water this property had its own 125" well.

All utilities available including sewerage.

The recognized growth of Indio has brought great changes to the area North of the railroad. A substantial development of over 1000 new homes has gone in within the last two or three years, and L. S. Whaley, one of our biggest subdividers, is now developing an additional 80 acres with new homes. Thus, housing is available within walking distance of this industrial site.

TRANSPORTATION

Indio is serviced by the Southern Pacific Railroad, U.S. Highways 60-77-99 and 111. Air service is available through Palm Springs Airport, a distance of 20 miles with Western Air Lines, and Bonanza Air Lines through Thermal Air Base, a distance of 6 miles. Indio has long been the junction of cross country travel and trucking entering Southern California.

COMMERCIAL SHOPPING CENTER

Plans have already been drawn for a commercial shopping center on this property along Jackson Street to service North Indio.

ZONING

This property is zoned for Industry, with the exception of a very small piece facing on Avenue A which is zoned R-3. This leaves a properly zoned industrial site in the heart of Indio of over 128 Acres, with every facility available for its success as an industrial center and commercial shopping center, or the entire piece may be used for industry with the exception of a small R-3 section as mentioned above.

Demand for additional railroad sites is a foregone conclusion as new lands are being brought under cultivation. The available supply of railroad sites for packing sheds and warehouses in Indio is practically exhausted. New development of such is impractical, except on lands lying north of the railroad, because the heavy traffic on Highway 99 precludes the laying of any new drill track crossings.

OWNER WISHES TO SELL

This 120 Acre industrial site, as a whole or in two parcels as follows:

- Parcel No. 1 50 Acres on the west end containing home improvements worth $150,000, existing date grove and approximately 2000' feet of railroad frontage at a price of $285,000 on terms.
- Parcel No. 2 The balance of the property of approximately 78 acres with over 2000' frontage on the railroad, and 2400' frontage on Jackson Street, which includes the commercial shopping center at a price of $550,000.

AND THE FABULOUS COACHELLA VALLEY

Reds Bearing Tales

The ancient admonition to beware of Greeks bearing gifts ought to be kept firmly in mind when one considers the spectacle of the Soviet leadership tearing down the image of Joseph Stalin. This performance of Nikita S. Khrushchev and his colleagues is both fantastic and fascinating. Reprecussions already have been felt around the world. But it would not be wise for us to become so intrigued by this feat of idol-smashing that we lost sight of the point most essential to us.

That point is the question of the Communist leaders' motivation. There is no doubt at all that Stalin's crimes against humanity were black and manifold. It is gratifying that they are at last being brought to the attention of the Soviet people. But why? Khrushchev and company have not simply been overcome by an urge to tell the truth. They seek to unburden themselves of Stalin's treacheries so that the current Soviet policy can be carried out more freely. But they cannot do that; they are the direct successors to the dictatorship. They were deeply involved in its crimes.

If Khrushchev and his comrades in power really want to convince the world that they have switched from malevolence to goodwill, they have only to move toward peace in the Middle East and in other places where they have thus far been busy with monkey wrenches. It is another case of actions speaking louder than words.

Invasion of Privacy

As the electronic age develops more ways of attracting attention, control of such attraction becomes more important. Unusual appeals to eye and ear need to be carefully thought about before they are allowed to get too firm a hold on society.

A case in point is the plan to adorn the top of New York's Empire State building with the "brightest continuous source of man-made light in the world." Its beams, on clear days, will be visible to airline passengers 300 miles out at sea. They also will sweep once a minute over the heads of some 20 million human beings within 80 miles of downtown Manhattan.

This "electronic tiara," as its publicists call it, will surely be an engineering triumph. That will not make it a boon to the multitudes. If the Empire State beacons were intended as navigational aids, they might be justified. But their sole purpose seems to be to help the world's tallest building say, "Here I am." Persons in the vicinity who enjoy star-gazing are annoyed at the prospect; astronomers are angered; bird lovers fear that migrant flocks may be fatally attracted.

A few years ago, an attempt was made to ply New Yorkers with continuous music and chatter aboard commuting trains. Popular resentment thwarted this invasion of privacy. If such a fate should overtake the Empire State's "electronic tiara," society will struggle along somehow, and maybe more comfortably, without it.

Explosive Smog Issue
(Ontario Report)

County supervisors this week circled cautiously about the highly explosive proposal to establish an effective San Bernardino County Air Pollution Control District, but left for the future any decision on the sort of district this county should have, or whether it should have any district at all. Contrary to the impression some hasty readers might have gained, the supervisors did not launch a program of actual county air pollution.

What the supervisors authorized was hiring of four technical experts to make a scientific study of the need for an Air Pollution Control District. A citizen's study committee already has recommended formation of such a smog control district, but it split wide open on the question of how the district should be set up and operated. Now the supervisors obviously hope to mend the split by getting some scientific data upon which to base some definite action.

This simply means, however, that two air pollution technicians will take samples of county air at various times and places and make a chemical analysis of them. Kaiser Steel Company has been doing this at strategic locations all around the firm's Fontana steel mill ever since the plant opened. Presumably these county technicians will make some effort to obtain this data, too.

After the air samples have been tested the supervisors plan to have two more air pollution control specialists study the findings and make recommendations regarding an air pollution control district for this county. They are supposed to tell the supervisors, evidently, how much damage they as scientists believe smog does each year in San Bernardino

County. But since the supervisors also stipulated they wanted reputable scientists, it is extremely unlikely they will find any air pollution experts who will stick their necks out very far on that. The blunt fact is that no reputable scientist today would attempt any broad estimate of smog damage. Scientists know too little yet of what actually causes smog and there remains too much room for bitter debate over what damage smog actually does.

The supervisors have other good reasons for their extreme caution in approaching this problem of smog control, too. Offhand the idea of a smog control district sounds wonderful. The average citizen, however, has no conception of how much it would cost him in additional property taxes to set up and operate the sort of air pollution control program he visualizes. Yet the only way supervisors can justify the outlay of even a moderate smog control program will be in terms of public health and property damage.

In trying to assess those the supervisors know that a terrific controversy is bound to develop. Everyone wants somebody else blamed for smog. That is why Deputy County Counsel Alexander Tobin warned the supervisors that ideally the evidence used as the basis for their decision on air pollution control "must be able to stand an attack from any group or individual . . . the expert testimony must be beyond reproach." Obtaining that sort of evidence and testimony is going to be the supervisors' neatest trick of the year, however. In the language of laymen, "There isn't any such animal."

Federal Debt

(Express, Knoxville, Iowa)

The man who is hopelessly in debt is a lot worse off than the national government which is in the same fix. The individual is subject to laws which can seize his property; the government just raises the debt limit a few more billions and pays more interest which accounts for much of your high taxes of today.

Free Enterprise

(Telegraph, Brownsville, Pa.)

What built the electric industry and gave the nation light and power? The answer is free enterprise. And Edison was the ultimate exponent of that free enterprise.

Calling the Strokes in Washington

THIS SIDE of The Sun
By Phat

"Let me write the ballads of a nation and I care not who makes its laws."

That was penned some time ago and I think the author's name was Fletcher. Isn't it enough that I remembered the quotation without having to recall all about the writer?

Anyway, 'it wasn't Horace Fletcher. He's the fellow who put the verb "Fletcherize" into the language. Remember? You masticate your food 50 or more times before gulping thus improving digestion and also reducing the frontage due to taking so long to eat you don't get around to as much.

BUT THAT'S ASIDE from what I started out to write. Funny how a person can get sidetracked so easily.

This happy Easteride made me think of the quotation about ballads—and of Irving Berlin.

Twice each year he makes the top of the Hit Parade. During this joyous season with his "Easter Parade," which you hear every place you go these days and again in December with "White Christmas."

And don't forget "God Bless America."

Perhaps Mr. Berlin does care who makes the laws, but he shouldn't. He writes the ballads.

TRAVEL EASTWARD to Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage, Palm Desert and other parts of call in that area, will soon be more comfortable and less hazardous. Besides the South Palm Canyon Drive widening project plus elimination of that trap at Tahquitz Creek bridge, preparations are under way to bridge the wash at Araby Point. That's a place where traffic is stymied every time there is a heavy dew in Palm Canyon.

Bids will soon be opened by the state for the structure. It is a project which Ray Sorum, Bill Hillery and Bill Mason of the local flood control zone (six) have long sought.

RIGHT NOW crews are getting ready for that bridge even before the bids are opened. County and flood control district are co-operating in realigning the road, finishing the channel under the planned bridge and doing other work to get ready.

Added to all that, District Highway Engineer C. V. Kane was quoted the other day as saying Highway 111 will be widened all of the way from Palm Springs to Palm Desert. That should cut the accident toll.

Right now they are planning to add shoulders. It will still be a two-laner for a while. Eventually it will become a divided highway.

That will start a bit of argument, however, between two schools of thought. Those who believe a divided highway is an absolute necessity to take care of the rapidly increasing traffic and the faction which believes Highway 111 should remain a scenic road.

I CAN'T GET AWAY with anything. Yesterday I commented on kids burying Easter eggs in the sand preparatory to an egg hunt tomorrow. And added that the hot sand might hatch the eggs.

Right away I am called. "You dope, weren't you ever a kid or is it so long ago? Don't you know that Easter eggs are always hard-boiled?"

The same to you I felt like replying.

Christ is Risen!

Rejoice ye heavens, sing thou Earth,
The Lord is Risen, Risen, Risen!
No tomb could hold in cold embrace
The Prince of Life — "He is Risen."

Glory to God, the victory is won,
The victory of Life over Death.
Conquered is hell, all its throng,
The cause of all sin on earth.

Good Friday Christ hung on the Cross,
On that shameful, cruel tree,
Our sins He bore there, all the dross,
There He died for you, and for me.

And now He liveth for evermore,
And we, we too shall live!
He's waiting for us on yonder shore,
For all who in Him do believe

He died for you, He rose for you,
Believe in Him, — only believe!
The Prince of Life is risen for you,
That you may rise, — and live.

Why not believe in our mighty God?
Oh think of life's short, little day.
Believe, oh believe in our Risen Lord,
He alone is the Truth and the Way.

We praise Thee for Thy matchless love,
We sink at Thy nail pierced feet,
Thank Thee for coming from above,
For us God's judgment to meet.

Rejoice ye heavens, sing thou earth
On this Blessed Easter Morn,
The Prince of Life has conquered
Brought Life to a world forlorn.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. on the proposed U. N. investigative mission to Palestine by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld:

"There are no hidden meanings in this, and if you search from now until doomsday with a magnifying glass the only purpose you will find is to prevent war."

NEW ORLEANS — Police Secretary Albert Blancher on the city stationing shotgun squads of policemen at likely holdup spots:

"We will place our shotgun squadsmen at strategic locations and holdup men can expect to be greeted by hot lead in the future."

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Benny Plans TV Shows

HOLLYWOOD — Maureen O'Sullivan, mother of seven, will play an old maid in an upcoming "Star Stage" telefilm . . . Jane Wyman's TV film, "In Another Life," is, I believe, the first on prenatal regression to hit the television screen. They're calling her Bridey Wyman . . . I two-stepped past Jack Benny at a party in the Beverly Hills hotel's crystal room as he was cutting a rug with Kim Novak—and just in time to overhear Jackson asking slim Kim to appear on one of the TV shows he'll film in England this summer. Maurice Chevalier has already agreed to guest on the Benny telefilm to be shot in Paris during Jack's trek abroad . . . Lucky Strike and Chrysler, incidentally, both have Benny's name on next season's contracts for his regular TV series and for more Shower of Stars stints.

Teresa Wright, who has been up to her eyelashes in TV work all season says she's going to have to whip herself into a decline for a while. The pace has been too tough for Tessie . . . Pinky Lee finds the going tough, too, and has told NBC-TV, following his 62nd show last week, "I don't want them saying, 'Gee, Pinky was a great little guy—until he dropped dead.' That's why I want next season's contract to call for only one hour-long show a week, instead of the Monday - through Saturday schedule I've been limping through this year."

BOB LONGENECKER, Ruth Hussey's husband and Veep of the Academy of TV Arts and Sciences, thinks there should be fewer Emmy Awards next year and that the entire awards structure should be revamped as soon as possible: Bob is of the opinion that no performer should be a candidate in more than one category. Think back to those three Emmys that Phil Silvers won a few weeks ago and you'll know what Bob means.

Tommy D'Andrea, whose old buddy on an old TV series called "The Soldiers" was a guy named Hal March—and that was long before Hal became associated with "The $64,000 Question" — thinks he has a good idea for a new kind of giveaway show. Tom's show would play at a different Army camp every week. The money would be deposited in banks for the soldier winners. Good idea. Sponsorship, anyone?

JULIE BENNETT knew that she was to play the part of a striptease in "Playwrights '56," but when a package that was supposed to contain her costume arrived at her dressing room and she tore it open it was empty. Exclaimed Julie, "This is going too far!" Happily, it was only a wardrobe department error . . . Casting directors don't have to tell an actor or actress in so many words that the actor is growing to old to play romantic leads. When Bette Davis is cast as a mother instead of an ingenue and when Pat O'Brien finds himself playing in a 30-year career soldier instead of a dashing leading man as he did in the dear, dead days beyond recall, you can bet your bottom buck they get the message.

I'm trying to find out whether a certain copy editor on a "Matinee Theatre" script still has his job. He changed "Shangri la" to "Shangri, Louisiana."

EARL WILSON:

Sparkle Plenty

NEW YORK—I was very blunt with Rhonda Fleming, I said to her straight out—let her like it or not—"You're one of the most beautiful girls in America."

"Goodness," she reddened — her hair, of course, was already that color—"I should carry you around with me!"

"I'm really surprised about you being so beautiful, too," I said.

"You are?" Her voice arched its eyebrows.

"Because the first time I saw you, I said 'A-a-a-a'—here I shrugged eloquently—"but now you're so healthy-looking and fully blossomed that you might win the famous Earl Wilson 'Prettiest Girl in America' Contest."

"That would be nice," said Miss Fleming. "What is the, uh, prize?"

"The winner," I replied nobly, "is permitted to give a great big kiss to the old gentleman for whom the contest is named. Susan Hayward and Barbara Britton have also been nominated. Anyway," I gushed on, "My wife has grown more beautiful with the years, so have my mother, my Gorgeous Mother-in-Law and our dog Cookie. Do you think it could be maturity that makes you girls prettier?"

I looked up—to find the object of my oration was gone. I was addressing my ode to an empty chair.

"It was that word maturity," spoke up a friend. "When she heard that, she leaped into the bedroom to fix up her face."

Rhonda soon reappeared, face and all, reporting that she'd bounced off to answer a phone. Rhonda was here to do a TV and to tell folks about her, next pictures, "Slightly Scarlet" and "While the City Sleeps." When she was around Toots Shor's and such places, male people would sort of gasp.

"What about the status of your marriage now?" I asked, referring to the fact that she's the wife of Dr. Lewis Morrill of Hollywood, though they've been separated at least once.

"Oh, everything's just fine!" Rhonda rhapsodized. "He calls me up every day and says 'Come on home so we can fight.' We're perfectly happy!"

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: J. O. Jewett says he saw a guy fall asleep at the wheel of his car the other night. Good thing it was at a drive-in theater.

ROBERT S. ALLEN:

Authority Delegated?

WASHINGTON — Congressional leaders are checking on inside information that President Eisenhower has taken extraordinary military measures regarding the war-periled areas.

He is credited with delegating authority to American commanders to do the following:

Use tactical atomic weapons, under certain circumstances. Best known of these weapons are atomic cannon, which are now with Army forces in the Far East and Europe.

Retaliate against Red Chinese air and naval attacks if they are deemed a menace to Formosa. On March 14, this column disclosed that all U. S. Navy, Air and Army forces in the Formosa area have been put under Admiral Stuart Ingersoll, commander of the Seventh Fleet, and that he has also been named chief adviser to the Nationalists on "military policy and operations."

These unannounced congressional inquiries are being made by the Powerful House Appropriations Committee and the Foreign Affairs Committee, which is considering the President's embattled $4,900,000,000 foreign aid budget. The two Committees are interrogating Pentagon and other authorities on the basis of private reports from military and diplomatic sources.

Among those being questioned are Defense Secretary Wilson and the Joint Chiefs of Staff. State Department officials also are slated to be asked about these reputed far-reaching delegations of presidential authority.

So far the Committees have been able to get few details about the matter.

Every military leader has explained he can't discuss it, and has referred the lawmakers to the White House.

ON THE SPOT — The House Appropriations Committee, at one closed-door session, did obtain a strong indication that important powers have been delegated to military commanders.

Representative Daniel Flood (R., Pa.) brought this out during a discussion with General Maxwell Taylor on his request for an additional $300,000,000 for special equipment to fight "small" wars.

The Army Chief of Staff, under Flood's grilling, hinted that certain presidential authority has been delegated to field commanders, but went no further than that. Taylor held that only the White House could talk about this. Following are highlights from the significant discussion:

Flood: "The use of atomic weapons in a small war is a possibility under certain circumstances, I take it?"

Taylor: "From the Army's point of view, we would want to use tactical atomic weapons in small wars. But I recognize there may be some limitations which our national interest may impose."

Flood: "Regarding limitations, has the President delegated any authority on the use of these weapons? We have been told he has done that. The law states that atomic weapons, even for tactical purposes, cannot be used by military commanders without the direct permission of the President."

Taylor: "The President has complete authority. He can delegate it by prescribing the conditions and circumstances under which these weapons can be used."

Flood: "But he cannot delegate that authority without the approval of Congress. Now I want to ask you two questions: Has the President delegated that authority or has he made plans to delegate it in the event he is unable to act because of physical incapacity?"

Taylor: "Those questions should be directed to the President. I am not able to comment on them."

Luau Fetes Birthday of Sandy Tevis

Sandra Tevis, home from the Sarah Dix Hamlin School in San Francisco, to spend Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Tevis at their home on Wonder Palm Road, brought a group of school friends South with her.

On Sunday Sandra entertained her houseguests and celebrated her birthday by inviting about 35 teen agers to a luau. The guests sat at low tables, covered with palm leaves and decorated with fresh fruits and flowers, and were entertained by the singing of Johnny Boyle and the songs and dances of his wife Tani, and daughter Linda. A full moon overhead was reflected in the swimming pool, where miniature canoes, filled with flowers floated.

Among Sandra's guests was Boris Karloff's daughter Sara, Pam Garry, Susie and Wrenn Bathold, Sunny Tomblin, Wendy Wittier, Nancy Parsons, Ginny Levensaler, Helen Ann Englehart, Jean and Judy Stuart, Syda Haas, Bon Bailey, Paul Baxter, Carl Rountree, Skip Morrison, Gary Carter, Alex Malloy, Bill Maybury and others. Each arriving guest received a lei.

Sandra's polo playing father, whose birthday falls on April 1, also celebrated at the luau. Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tevis were the Al Hunts, Jess Coes, Rusty Selwyns, Bill Peacocks, Mr. and Mrs. Belmont Sanchez, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Haas, Mrs. Ralph Barthold and Allan Tomblin.

Recent dinner guests at the Sal Alessandro home were Mrs. George Beckerman and children Ronny and Michael, of Santa Monica, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Porter and children Jimmy, Pat and Fred Jr. of Tucson, Arizona. The Porter family were residents of the Village for a number of years and spent several days here visiting with friends.

Cold roast beef will stay moist and flavorful if it is wrapped in damp cheesecloth while it is still hot. Refrigerate immediately.

Coat the base of a pottery vase with clear shellac to prevent sweating which leaves white rings on furniture.

Poetry Theme for Meeting of The Writers

The next meeting of The Writers, Wednesday, April 4, at St. Paul's parish hall, will feature poetry writing. The program chairman for this month is Orville Wall, poet, of Cathedral City. The speaker will be a person well versed in the art of poetry writing, Mrs. Anne Irene Carpenter, poet and English teacher who now lives in Palm Desert. For several years she conducted a program called "Poems in Recitative" before various types of audiences. She has also led study groups in verse writing.

Visitors are welcome to attend the meetings of The Writers, and this time poets are particularly invited.

The coffee hour will be in charge of Mrs. Sallie Coggeshall.

Barbara Foster held a business meeting and rehearsal of the Jaycees at her home Tuesday. All phases of the coming Jaycee variety show were discussed and the costumes, designed by Barbara Foster, were displayed. These will be made by members participating in the show. Forty members of the cast were present.

Rand Erickson, son of Mrs. Phyllis Erickson, is visiting with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Cominator in Glendale for 10 days. Rand is four years old and the grandparents are busy showing him the sights and looking forward to a visit to the circus this coming week.

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

Instead of putting all the eggs (striped, polka dotted, be-flowered and jewelled) into one basket . . . Palm Springs gals have been putting all the flowers they could find onto hats to wear in the Easter Hat parade tomorrow . . . Easter Sunrise services will be getting people up early . . . and the day will be crowded with egg rollings, magic and puppet shows for the small fry . . . and brunches for the adults . . . Climaxing the week will be the Easter Night symphony . . . with the Philharmonic's 100-piece orchestra playing under the stars . . . The majesty of the music should touch the night with some of the same reverence inspired at the hillside Cross as the sun came up.

Alfred Wallenstein, who will conduct the Easter Night concert, and Mrs. Wallenstein arrived in Palm Springs yesterday . . . They are at the Ingleside Inn and will remain until Tuesday for a brief vacation . . .

Elsa and Bill Bassichis, who have been enjoying their usual winter vacation at the Racquet Club . . . left yesterday to return to Cleveland . . . This has been an unusually eventful stay for them as they arrived in time to go to Las Vegas on the Millie Considine jaunt . . . and they have attended several big parties . . . and, with the Hops, hosted one of the most glamorous . . . Leaving less pleasant memories was Bill's tumble from a horse on a pack trip into the mountains . . . Aloha to two nice people who always add a great deal to the Palm Springs winter season . . .

The Fred Karlens (Thunderbird prexy) entertained around 90 at cocktails and dinner Wednesday evening . . . Easter bunnies and flowers decorated the dinner tables . . . which were set up under the canopy at the Club . . . Guests were mostly Thunderbird members . . . and the Karlens are planning a second affair soon for their Palm Springs friends . . .

Evelyn and Sydney Schiff will host a Mural Room party next Wednesday evening . . . when they have invited friends to cocktails and dinner . . .

Bertine Treat is here to spend Easter in her San Lorenzo Road home . . . which had been rented earlier . . . Bertine and the Franklin B. MacCarthys will share a box at the Easter Night symphony . . . and will entertain their guests at buffet at Deep Well preceding the concert . . . In their party will be the Fred Hallidays, Merrill Crockett, and Bertine's escort, Bill Sabranski (he writes music for the Webb TV show) . . .

Jerry and Arthur Bergh changed their minds about another six months abroad . . . and are on their way to New York . . . where they will spend a month at the St. Regis before heading West . . .

AN EASTER EGG ROLL, puppet and magic show at the Racquet Club on Easter Sunday, is being anticipated eagerly by Deborah, Sandra and Nikki, who are shown here in that order, with their mother Mrs. Noel Clarke. Like many other family groups, the Clarks will have Sunday brunch in the Club's Round-Up Room. These popular Sunday Western brunches, with Trav Rogers as host, have been drawing capacity crowds. EASTER TIME at the Tennis Club finds cute little Kathy Taylor helping her mother Mrs. Sam Taylor get the Easter baskets ready for the annual Easter Sunday brunch at the Club. The Parisian flower cart, overflowing with Spring blossoms, adds color to the Easter setting, which will be a festive scene as members and guests arrive wearing their best Easter gowns and bonnets. Easter is one of the rare occasions when Palm Springs wear hats. (Anderson photo)

Three Services Holy Communion Set at St. Paul's

The celebration of Easter will begin with a Choral Eucharist beginning at 11:30 p. m. tonight, Easter Eve. The choir will sing the Girding of the Holy Communion for the major portion of the service. The Nicene Creed will be sung to the traditional Russian chant, as harmonized by Gretchenhoff.

The celebration tomorrow morning at 11 a. m. will be a duplication of the midnight service. The Rector will preach at both these services. At 8 a. m. tomorrow, a simple Holy Communion will be celebrated. Easter hymns will be sung by the congregation and soloists.

The Children's Festival will begin in the Church at 3 p. m. tomorrow afternoon, at which time time boxes will be presented, and the Easter floral cross built by the children. Following the worship service in the church a special Easter party has been scheduled to be held in the parish hall.

In view of the large anticipated crowds, the rector has suggested that the Midnight service tonight, and the 8 a. m. service tomorrow morning will undoubtedly be less crowded than the 11 a. m. service on Sunday.

Easter Services Set Sunday at Community

Sunday School will commence at 9:30 at the Community Church and there are classes for all age groups with Special Easter programs.

Duplicate morning worship services will be held at 9:30 and at 11 a. m. The Chancel Choir under the leadership of Elmer H. Young will present two numbers "Christ Is Risen" by Victor Herbert and "Were You There?" by Burleigh. The choir is accompanied by Mrs. Lois Lux on the organ. Dr. James H. Blackstone, Jr., pastor, will bring his message "The Foundation of Faith."

A trained nurse is in attendance from 9:30 until 12:00 for the care of the small children, in order that parents may attend the Sunday School and the morning worship service.

The Sacrament of Baptism for Children will be held at 4:30 in the Church sanctuary.

At 6:15 Christian Endeavor meetings will be held, the Junior High Group in the Youth Chapel and the High School group in the church parlor.

The Evening Worship Service will be held at 7:30 with an inspirational congregational song service led by Merle Hancock, followed by the Easter Film, "I Beheld His Glory."

A special invitation is extended to visitors and strangers in town to come and worship on Easter Sunday.

Message of Joy to be Sermon of Rev. Hass

Easter is one of the most joyous seasons of the year, because it has such a joyful message: "Jesus which was crucified is risen!" The message of joy is the central light around which the Easter sermon for the worshippers at Our Savior's Lutheran Church. The Easter service begins at 10:30 a. m. at the American Legion hall.

Preceding the Easter worship, the Sunday School children will have an Easter-egg hunt at Tamarisk Park. The hunt begins at 8:30 a. m. After the hunt the children will all go to the American Legion Hall for their regular session of Sunday School.

A special feature of the Easter observance will be the showing of an Easter movie: "Miracle of Love." The showing begins at 8:30 p. m. and lasts 45 minutes. After the film there will be an informal fellowship in honor of Mr. Anderson, our oldest member, who recently celebrated his 85th birthday.

Pastor Hass will conduct an Easter Sunrise Service for Immanuel Lutheran Church of Twentynine Palms at 6 a. m., but will return in time to participate in all of the activities of the local Lutheran Church.

The children's choir of Our Saviors church will make its first appearance in the Easter service. They will sing "Ye Sons and Daughters of the King." The choir is under the direction of Miss Gail McGrew.

Dr. Irma Glen to Speak Sunday on Subject 'You Are Immortal Now'

"You Are Immortal Now" will be the subject of the lecture-sermon to be given at the special Easter service of the Church of Religious Science of Palm Springs at the El Paseo Theater at 10:45 a. m.

The Bible text is from St. Paul: "There Are Celestial Bodies and Bodies Terrestrial. . . There is a Natural Body and There is a Spiritual Body."

Dr. Ernest Holmes in the Science of Mind textbook interprets these lines as follows: "We have a spiritual body and need not die to receive one. . . The physical disappearance of Jesus after his Resurrection was the result of the spiritualization of His consciousness. . . This so quickened His mentality that His body disintegrated, and His followers could not see Him because He was on another plane. Planes are not places; they are states of consciousness."

A new Easter song, "Hymn to Christ," will be the vocal offering of Trice Grossi, soprano. A. James Nowell will sing, "The Holy City," and an appropriate musical setting will be furnished by Stanley Spiegelman, violinist, and Dr. Irma Glen at the organ.

The regular mid-week meeting will be held at the Palm Springs Woman's Club, Thursday at 8 p. m. Dr. Glen will discuss "Spiritual Disciplines." A Hymn Sing precedes the service led by Irma Glen and Elaine Noble, vocal soloist. All are invited. A social hour follows.

Phone Firm Forgets Its Rates in Refund

CLEVELAND — Frederick Lear said he got a nickel back from the telephone company when he complained that his pay phone went dead in the middle of a call and failed to refund his money. But that wasn't enough, he said.

He said he reminded the company that for some time it has cost ten cents to make a call. The company said it would send him another nickel.

Quick Raise

WATERBURY, Conn. — Mrs. Marcia W. Ford, the new secretary to the city's director of administration received a pay increase before she was officially hired. Board of finance members couldn't find any salary bracket under civil service rules which paid $3,000, the amount for which Mrs. Ford was engaged. The board confirmed her appointment at the salary closest to that amount — $3,032.

Ups-a-daisy

DEARBORN, Mich. — Richard Caven, 24, a Dearborn policeman, escaped with only cuts and bruises because he landed on the roof of the car that struck his motorcycle. The impact of the crash pitched Caven high into the air but his fall was cushioned by the car roof. The officer slid off the roof onto the hood and then to the ground.

A 154-pound halibut landed by rod and reel near Pacific City, Ore., is believed to be a record catch for that fish.

CONFIDENT LIVING
By Norman Vincent Peale

Life's Greatest Experiences

Life's deepest experiences are in those profound moments of life and death which come to all. Happy is the person who can see above all human suffering the indestructibility of the soul; who learns the Easter truth, that God cares. God helps us in life's crisis hours. Through faith we find strength in life and consolation in death. This is a great teaching of Easter.

I recently received a touching letter from a young mother. "When my son Danny was born," she wrote, "he seemed perfect in every way. But he had been home from the hospital only a week when he became seriously ill and had to be taken back. We were told he had very little chance of recovery."

"I thought I couldn't stand it when I looked at Danny's empty crib. . . then my husband and I prayed fervently for Danny's recovery and at the same time told God we were willing to relinquish Danny to Him if that were His will. That was the hardest of all to say, because we wanted Danny for ourselves. But we said it."

"In the meantime my husband and I had been practicing positive thinking. We refused to acknowledge that Danny might die. Instead we pictured him as alive and well. Every time I passed his crib I painted a picture in my mind of him lying there, sleeping peacefully. I held on furiously to this. . . I even had my diaper service deliver my regular supply and I sent for booklets on baby care."

"About two days later our prayers were answered. We had been at the hospital all morning. At two o'clock when the doctor went into the nursery we watched anxiously through the glass window. In a few minutes the doctor came out smiling. Danny's temperature had dropped to normal and the color had come back to his cheeks. We said prayers of joy."

"The day we took him home another blow fell. The X-ray had revealed an abdominal cyst which meant an operation. I was frightened. . . and Danny was so small."

"Outside the operating room I prayed for Danny and for the surgeon too. I prayed that God would put His skill and strength into the doctor's hands and make the operation a success."

"It was more than two hours before they brought him out. In an incubator, more dead than alive. . . How hard it was to hold my faith at that point. But I kept on praying and believing."

"The days that followed were the hardest we have ever lived through, not knowing whether our son would live or die. Every night when we called the hospital we were told, 'He is still fighting.' He just refused to give up."

"Two weeks later Danny came home. Today he weighs twelve pounds; and is a healthy, happy baby. The doctor calls his recovery a miracle. He is amazed at it, but not Danny's father and I. We had faith. It has been our life's greatest experience."

Do you think those parents will ever forget that deep experience of God's goodness? All their lives they will know what can be done by faith.

I realize that other parents have prayed, yet God has taken their babies. If that is His will, it is right that it should be done. We must learn humbly to accept God's will. That acceptance will in itself bring peace and understanding. This too is one of life's deep experiences.

At Easter, we commemorate one of the most memorable of all human experiences, the Resurrection of Jesus Christ. We heard once more the promise of faith which has sustained men through the ages: "I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die."

And this is the greatest promise of all. Each of us, as these parents did, must walk through the valley of the shadow in the course of our lives. But Easter tells us that, whatever happens, beyond those shadows, if you only believe, there is always light and life.

SAM SEZ:

"EASTER GREETINGS to you all, and along with it may I present the most amazing real estate listing I've ever had, which is offered to anyone regardless of color or society rank. If you can qualify for one of these houses you will be in the millionaire class. As to qualifications, character is more essential than money. Your interest is protected from any city, county or state taxes. Free upkeep; exclusive society guaranteed; indirect lighting (something revolutionary); free wining and dining; free grand symphony musicals exceeding New York's Met or Italy's La Scala. Fine art exhibits available (all conservative), free health insurance guaranteeing good health and long life, special banquets offering rare foods, not made available for thousands and the gates are guarded at all times. A clear stream divides the street these houses are on and the street is paved with gold and oh! yes! I almost forgot — the houses are solid gold, too. Read all about it in your Bible — Revelation, Chapters 21 and 22. For conditions of purchase see your minister and if he can't help you — see us."

If you want something less ritzy than the above and this side of heaven consider the following:

PALM SPRINGS HEIGHTS — Lovely 2 bedroom, 1 1/2 bath home with den, furnished, wall to wall carpeting, 40 foot porch, barbecue, garage, work bench, lots of storage space. Large landscaped lot, view. $26,500 — $5000 down handles.

COUNTRY CLUB AREA — one of the best — real luxury. $47,500. Beautifully landscaped. Must be seen to be appreciated.

RANCHO MIRAGE — 2 bedroom home furnished, ultra modern. Double carport, patio, refrigeration cooling and forced air heat, garbage disposal. Large landscaped lot 100x220 with view. $25,000, $8000 down.

RANCHO MIRAGE — 3 bedrooms, 3 baths, maid's room with bath, private swimming pool, large view lot. Property 3 years old. $32,500. Or will rent for % of purchase price.

Unparalleled New Desert Living Plan

STANFORD UNIVERSITY leasehold plan now brought to the desert by the creator and original owner of the Smoke Tree Ranch where the President stayed. Now you can have a small artistic Holiday Home on

HIDDEN SPRINGS RANCH OASIS 1000 Palms, California

Only 12 minutes out of Palm Springs. Live on the wide open desert away from city tensions and yet only 10 miles to pubs, shops, and clubs.

You can have a safe "use of a big lot on a 99 year lease, virtual ownership, record your lease like a deed, AND AN OPTION TO RENEW 99 years more—total 198 years. Same plan as Mr. Doyle used at Smoke Tree Ranch on original 16 homes, same as Irvine's Balboa Bay Shores and Corona Del Mar where homes run $22,500 up to $165,000. Ideal for those who can only week end, don't want a large investment, laborious housekeeping and for retired couples wishing the sunshine economically but among their own kind."

$7 a month only for a lot 75x105, with huge trees, water, electricity, phone, roads, right off Ramon Road. There's nothing comparable to it on the Palm Springs desert, only development of its kind.

$3975 buys a cement block Holiday Home, 480 square feet, living room, bath, kitchen, fireplace and carport complete. With one bedroom, 600 square feet, $4475. "Lot can't be beat—just the price of an auto, an investment in health away from fog, smog and city tensions. Controlled and restricted character. Plans must be approved. Assignments approved. You can sell and rent both land and home. Direct TV, swimming pool, next year. Adults. Trailers, if enclosed with a home, residential colony, not a park.

5 ACRE ESTATE SITES. If you want to buy outright, I have them 50% below the market. Water, utilities, natural gas, horses O.K. Good TV. $5500 and 3 1/2 acre bargain $3250, 2 1/2 acres $2700. Compare them with everything and if you can beat it then I will give it free.

Drive out Ramon Road across the Freeway, Highway 99, then 3 miles to this gorgeous 1500 acre — and little known — residential paradise at the end of Ramon. Hidden Springs Ranch, Phone 611.

THE GOOD

1. Hope was expressed in Allied capitals that the big powers might at last get started on the way toward a disarmament agreement, including the safeguards against violations which Soviet Russia has refused to accept.

For the first time, the Soviet delegation at a United Nations disarmament conference in London agreed in principle to the "open sky" plan for aerial inspection of armaments which President Eisenhower proposed at the "summit" meeting of the Big Four heads of government in Geneva last July.

The tentative acceptance was cautiously qualified. But it was the latest of several indications that the Kremlin might be ready to do business. A new Russian disarmament plan, submitted at the London meeting, also failed to include the previous Kremlin insistence on a flat ban on nuclear weapons as a first move.

2. Communist parties all over Europe showed open consternation over the debunking of Josef Stalin, built up for years as infallible. The Hungarian Reds announced that Laszlo Rajk, their foreign minister, and other leaders were executed on concocted evidence in 1949 in a Stalin-era purge.

Communist parties in East Germany, France, and Italy squabbled over the debunking. Many of them refuse to agree that Stalin was only a clay-footed idol.

3. President Eisenhower's conference with Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent of Canada and President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines of Mexico at White Sulphur Springs, a new kind of informal get-together by "summit" leaders, proved to be a resounding success.

There was talk of developing the new techniques. It may be used when Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India visits the United States in July.

THE BAD

1. The Parliament of Iceland, a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance, called for the withdrawal of American troops, on the ground that international tensions had been reduced. There are only a few thousand Americans in Iceland.

But the little island country, lying east of Greenland on the Arctic Circle, is a valuable aerial staging base, if nothing else. The "reduce tensions" argument is regarded by the United States as dangerous. The Kremlin has adopted a new look. To the American government, it is merely another false face to mask expansionist ambitions.

2. The Arab nations showed suspicion of a plan to send United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to the Middle East in an attempt to settle the Palestine crisis. In the U.N. Security Council, Arab delegates sought to limit rigidly the basis on which Hammarskjöld might negotiate. American chief delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. will try to win over the Arab countries when the council meets again Tuesday.

3. Japan was angered by the United States' rejection of its protest against the plan to carry out H-bomb experiments in the Marshall Islands next month. Japanese Premier Ichiro Hatoyama down to the most humble citizen, fear keenly that such tests are a menace because of consequent radioactive fall-out.

Japanese opposition to the tests will be encouraged by the propaganda of Soviet Russia and Communist China, and by "neutralists" like Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru who want a ban on nuclear weapons without asking for adequate safeguards.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE from serious injury was the good fortune of two Los Angeles youths early this morning when their car overturned three times at Araby Point, and came to rest on its top. Both are reported in good condition this afternoon, one suffering from a fractured collarbone. See story, other picture Page 1. (Desert Sun photo)

Salvage Pickup for DAV is Set Here April 2-15

Annual Disabled American Veterans salvage pickup in Palm Springs will be conducted April 2 to 15, Dr. James Potter, commander, announced today.

Salvage collected is taken to San Bernardino where it is repaired by disabled American veterans, and then sold there through the DAV store. No articles are sold locally.

No door-to-door solicitation will be made. Persons having household articles, bedding, toys or unneeded clothing, are asked to call 2083, 2157 or 2957, or leave the items at the Palm Springs Hobby Shop, 128 West Andreas Road.

In past months, various local organizations which have held rummage sales have made contributions to the DAV salvage store. These groups include the American Legion Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary and the Wednesday Night Club, Dr. Potter said.

"This is a way to aid in restoring, as far as possible, war disabled veterans to as good a position in life as they would have enjoyed had they not been disabled," Dr. Potter said.

'Jam Session' Here Tonight

An admission charge of 25 cents has been set, Plate said.

Los Angeles District Attorney S. Ernest Roll told police yesterday that $262.50 worth of clothes and jewelry were taken from his car while he stopped for 20 minutes for a sandwich at a northend restaurant here.

Besides a suit, two sport coats and a pair of slacks, Roll said, a $100 Masonic pin on the buttonhole of one of the jackets was taken.

Survivors of the crash were Pfc. Leroy D. Wigglesworth and A2-C Virginia F. Bowman of Portland, Ore. Both were in critical condition at a Klamath Falls hospital.

The three victims, as yet unidentified, included two officers, one reported as a lieutenant colonel.

$143,000 Fire Laid to Drug Addict

DOWNEY — A fire which began with an explosion and then raged through a large drugstore causing a $143,000 loss Friday night might have been started by narcotics addicts, Sheriff's deputies said.

The fire smoldered for a half hour before the hot air inside the Layton Cole Drug Co. blew out the entire glass front of the building located in the heart of the business area.

Investigators said the fire might have been touched off by narcotics addicts.

3 Killed, 2 Hurt When C45 Plane Crashes Into Hill

Mother of 7 Held for Cashing $642 'Godsend' Check

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Police charged the mother of seven children Friday with forgery for cashing a $642 check sent to her by mistake.

"I took it as if intended by God that I should have it," Mrs. Sylvia Repinski, 42, told police. "I thought it was a godsend."

Police said the check, mailed to her by mistake, belonged to a Sheboygan, Wis., transit company. They charged her with forging an endorsement and cashing the check.

Vegas Scoops UP Influx of L.A. Drug Addicts

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Local authorities today cracked down on narcotics peddlers and addicts who allegedly fled to this gambling resort in the wake of raids in the Los Angeles area.

Acting chief of police George W. Allen Jr. said many narcotics handlers have arrived here since mass roundups of narcotics suspects were conducted last week in Los Angeles.

Allen, Friday, requested photographs of narcotics peddlers and users from the Los Angeles Sheriff's office. He said the pictures would be used to identify suspects who are leaving Los Angeles "like rats from a sinking ship."

Woman Found Dead in Bathtub

An autopsy has been ordered by county coroner Arvin Depew of the body of Mrs. Eva Moss, 63, of 2275 Araby Drive, found dead in her bathtub yesterday noon under 15 inches of water. Police say they possibly took her own life.

A plastic pill bottle, stained red at the bottom, was found beside the tub, and taken to the crime laboratory for examination. The stains were thought to be made from dissolved gelatin capsules which had contained nembutol.

Probe Reveals 'Solid Evidence' of Fight Fixing

LOS ANGELES — A 10-day sensation-packed probe into California boxing produced "conclusive evidence of some violations," state investigators said today as they ended the hearings here and prepared to resume sessions in San Francisco.

Los Angeles Olympic Auditorium matchmaker Babe McCoy, linked directly in testimony with a dozen alleged fight "fixes" and purse-splitting, was the star witness at the hearing which wound up here yesterday.

McCoy, who denied the allegations, faced the strong indication the committee would recommend his license be revoked.

He also was notified by special counsel James Cox he would be requested at a future date concerning alleged income from the East and other parts of the country.

Cox brought out testimony from McCoy that former gambler Mickey Cohen owes him $5,000. But McCoy denied he ever had done any business with Cohen other than when McCoy, then a manager, managed Mickey as a fighter.

A daring daylight holdup of the Olympic Auditorium, netting robbers $27,000, stole the spotlight on the last day of the boxing investigation which had centered on the stadium's affairs.

The bandits, still at large, slugged the stadium's treasurer as he opened the safe.

Police School Begins Monday

Supervisory personnel from the Palm Springs Police Department, sergeants and above, as well as officers from departments of several neighboring cities, will start a two-week supervisors school Monday night, Police Chief August G. Kettmann reported.

Instructors for the three-hour a night, five-night a week course, will be John J. Peper, state supervisor of peace officers' training for California Department of Education, and O. W. Wilson, professor of police administration at the University of California.

Among topics to be taught will be: organization of a force, selection for appointment and promotion, budgeting, welfare and morale of personnel, and departmental controls.

Scheduled to attend from the local force are Capt. Orest Johnson and Sgts. Bill Lux, Bob Ralph, Dale Thompson, John Herrera, Bob Young, Ted Greene and Bob White.
